

The airwaves belong to everyone and there can be no restrictions because one group thinks they will lose their profit margin. The NAB is not the owner and sole proprietor of the broadcast arena. Satellite radio is sometimes the only source of travel information. Local broadcast stations are very weak in this area.